

Mobility - Move the office outside

Enabling the remote workforce by giving them access to the internal company system while away from the office, is useful and often critical to an organisation's operation. Crosshill Computing Services enables networked resources to be securely accessible on any device, over any connection, meaning your employees can gain access to company data and resources from almost any location.

We can:

- Carry out a review of your current systems and put forward recommendations
- Design and implement remote file and email access
- Design and implement secure hardware based VPN intersite connections
- Implement remote client access for laptops and home user site VPN access
- Implement email access to your phone or PDA.

Previous Experience and Clients

We have provided mobility solutions for a range of clients. These include:

- Antrim Estates Company - Secure remote email access using standard web browser
- B9 Organic Energy - VPN network allowing users remote access to all internal network resources
- Harvey & Co Accountants - Secure remote email access using standard web browser
- Whiteford Geoservices Ltd - Secure remote email access using 3G enabled Smartphones.
